THE WAY OF THE CIRCUS IS HARD.

Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' Visit Unlucky and Wet.

The weather on Saturday was the most disagreeable that Greensboro had had for more than a year and the circus was a failure Verily it would seem that the circus is never to do well in Greensboro. Last year we were visited by two: Barnum and Bailey in the Spring and John Robinson and Franklin Brothers in the fall. The former had a rainy and disagreable day and lost money; the latter had a fair day but it will be remembered that their largest elephant became unmanageable and was burned and punished in many ways, but was never conquered

Forepaugh and Sells Brothers, our visitors on Saturday seemed to have the worst luck at all. Everything seemed to go wrong for them. To begin with, it rained from the time they finished unloading until they reloaded at night. Mud never seemed so muddy nor water so wet before. Though they gave the longest street parade ever seen in Greensboro, all the gaiety was taken off, the ladies instead of wearing their gay dresses, being protected by gossamers, and the bandsmen, instead of their brilliant uniforms and helments, wore overcoats.

Three hundred and forty horses, eleven elephants and several camels and dromedaries took part in the parade.

They showed to a small crowd in the afternoon, and being discouraged by the rain which seemed to pour down faster and faster, decided to pull up stakes and get off soon for Raleigh where they show today. But not so, Greensboro does not let a circus off so easily. They began loading before 4 o'clock, but got off little sooner than they usually do when they show at night. Soon after dark one of the educated horses was lost and was not found until after more than an hour of search by a party of men dispatched for that purpose. Soon after the horse was found a monster wagon, loaded with confectioneries, was turned over on the railroad track on South Elm street where they were loading Nearly an hour's time, and as many men as could get around it, a block and tackle and two horses were required to get it on its wheels again.

While this was going on everything else was at a stand still except one driver steering a six horse team, who could not see in the rain and dark was following the rattle of the wagons ahead. He was almost out of town when he discovered that he had been following a farm wagon for more than fifteen minutes and was about a mile out of his course.

Reader, don't take this article as a complaint from the Telegram about the weather. We are perfectly willing to take the weather as it comes and are merely trying to show that the way of the circus is hard—if it comes to Greensboro.

"GOING MY WAY"

The Remark of a Colored Man This Morning.

A colored man was at the Telegram office early this morning. He also called last Saturday in time to get a ticket to the circus. He calls frequently and not infrequently asks a small favor, and he most always gets it.

This morning the air was cold and bracing, and he came in wearing a broad smile and rubbing his hands. We anticipated his errand and began twitting him about going to the democrats every time he wants something, and then voting against the interest of his white friends at every election.

He scratched his head, shifted his hat from one hand to the other, shuffled his feet and said: "Oh yes sir; yes sir! I mos' inginerly likes de dimicrat white man de bes'; he's my bes' friend, and dat's whar I gits my livin'. But you see boss, its jes' dis way: de 'publican white man is goin' my way, dat's all."

And he unwittingly told the truth with as much force as any white campaign orator has done in this campaign. That's the situation, exactly. The republican white man is going the colored man's way, and we want no higher authority on the truth of this statement than that quoted above. We are prepared to prove by reliable witnesses that the above statement was made by a colored man.

NATIONAL CAPITAL DOINGS.

Movement to Build a Peace Monument.

COL. BOYD HAS BEEN MISQUOTED

Generals Lee and Wheeler, Captain Evans and Lieutenant Hobson Among Washington Visitors.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The erection of a national peace monument at the seat of government to commemorate the re-establishment of peace is contemplated. Such a monument would serve too, as a tribute from a grateful people to the heroes who sacrificed their lives for the country in the late war. The movement is taking definite shape, and the co-operation of the chief executives of the various states will be asked, The project is a national one, and the aim will be to enlist the aid of the people of the country. To this end it is expected that before long a national committee will be appointed to consider the subject. This committee will contain representatives from each of the states, probably selected by the governors thereof. Already communications have been sent to the governors of the various commonwealths asking for their co-operation in the movement, and for suggestions relative to the subject.

In connection with this a movement has been started by the citizens of Washington to celebrate the centennial anniversary of the transfer of the seat of government from Philadelphia to Washington City, which occurs in the year 1900. As this event is one in which the people of the whole country are, or should be interested, it is suggested that it would be a fitting time for the unveiling at Washington of a national monument to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the war with Spain.

General Lee arrived in Washington yesterday evening. He came over from Richmond for the purpose of attending to some private business which requires his attention. Today he will visit the war department and will also call upon President McKinley. The General says that the condition of Mrs. Lee has much improved, and he hopes to get away for Savannah by the middle or latter part of the week.

Quartermaster General Ludington has invited the representatives of the railroads running South to meet in his office Tuesday morning for the purpose of fixing upon satisfactory rates for the transportation of the troops and military supplies for the winter camps in South Carolina and Georgia. Representatives from the Southern, Seaboard Air Line, Norfolk and Western, and other railroads will be present. Quartermaster Ludington says that he does not anticipate that there will be any great difficulty in arranging upon satisfactory rates for the transportation of the troops. It is understood the work will be divided as nearly as possible among the roads running south.

General Joe Wheeler is also in the city. He leaves today for Huntsville, Alabama, where he has his headquarters. The General says that about 7,500 troops from Camp Meade were at Philadelphia, and that the volunteers made a splendid showing. Within a short time, the General says, the big military camp at Middleton, Pennsylvania, will be a thing of the past.

Lieut. Hobson and Capt. Robley D. Evans, who commanded the Iowa during the naval engagement off Santiago, are among the prominent naval visitors in Washington. Lieut. Hobson is here for the purpose of giving his report as to the condition of the naval vessels which were sunk during the engagement.

Capt. Evans called at the Navy Department Saturday and saw Secretary Long. He also called at the Executive mansion and was cordially received by the President, who conversed with him for some time. The Captain has been quite ill from malarial fever, but he says he is feeling much better.

Captain Chidwick, formerly of the Maine, is another prominent naval officer now in Washington. He has been granted two months leave of absence with permission to leave the navy.

Col. Boyd, Assistant Attorney General, was seen today. He says from advices received by him there is no change in the North Carolina situation. The Colonel has been somewhat misquoted by the press. He was reported as saying that the republicans and populists are quietly preparing to fight on election day. He denies emphatically that he made this statement; what he did say was that the republicans and populists are preparing to vote peaceably on election day. The Colonel will leave for North Carolina in a few days, and will remain in the State until after the election is over.

Senator Daniel, who is now engaged in campaign work in Tennessee, will probably pay a visit to North Carolina to fill his engagements the latter part of the week.

Representative Bailey, of Texas, will also probably make one or two speeches in the state before the close of the campaign.

The excursion to Santiago, to be chaperoned by Mrs. Bankhead, wife of the Congressman from Alabama, is attracting much attention in Washington. Mrs. Bankhead is one of the popular ladies in the southern circle at the capital and has gained a reputation as an excellent chaperon. She has a son in the service, and the young ladies who will accompany her to Cuba nearly all have brothers or relatives in the volunteer service. The war department is doing all in its power to aid Mrs. Bankhead in the excursion, as they believe it will help to cheer up the boys who have had a rather hard time of it for the past few months, and will also help to make the Christmas season more cheerful for them. It is said that during the coming winter there will be numerous excursions to Cuba, many of those who have been in the habit of visiting Florida during the winter months, intend to visit the island. Mrs. Bankhead has been in Washington during the past week arranging the details for the proposed trip.

David D. Perry, of North Carolina, has been elected second vice-president of the post graduate class of the Georgetown law school. Upon his graduation, it is understood Mr. Perry will practice law in North Carolina.

W. L. Smith, of North Carolina, is visiting friends and relatives in Washington.

C. D. Thompson, of Greensboro, is at the Howard House.

Among other North Carolina people in Washington are F. W. Hancock, Oxford; C. L. Smith, Morganton; W. A. Graham, Charlotte; W. D. Mabie and wife, Asheville and C. D. McKnight, of Charlotte.

SLEEPS WITH A NEGRO.

Unblushing Admission of a Randolph White Man.

While in the city last Saturday a party of Ramseur gentlemen called at this office, among them Mr. E. C. Spinks and Mr. E. C. Watkins, the latter a son of Ex-sheriff Watkins, of the Ramseur cotton mills. In conversation about matters political these gentlemen said the democrats would make gains in their section of the county.

They related to us the most remarkable case of a white man, Cicero Trogdon, who lives near Ramseur, who says the negroes ought to rule this country. Mr. Watkins wrote out a statement over his own signature from which we make the following extract:

"Mr. Trogdon, a farmer near the town of Ramseur, had a conversation with myself in the presence of other white men a few days ago in which he said he was a radical of the blackest kind and believed in the negro holding office as the white man does. He had a negro along with him who works for him and he said that this negro was his companion, that he ate and slept with him. He further said he intended to stick to this class of people. These are facts and I can prove them if necessary. This is a fair sample of the negro party in our neighborhood."

Just think of it! A man with a white skin eats and sleeps with a negro and seems to be proud of it! Great God, to what lower depths is it possible for a man to fall? He should black his skin, let the bees sting his lips and get some one to mash his nose. He should no longer be recognized by white people as a white man He is an unfit companion for a respectable negro and there are negroes in Greensboro who would be ashamed to walk the streets with him.

This is on the same principle that a negro says a man of his color who votes and affiliates with the democrats is a "sorry negro."

A Small Fire.

The fire alarm was turned in at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon from box 53, corner of East Lee and Arlington streets. The floor in a back room of Mr. B. C. Sharpe's house was discovered to be on fire. The whole department responded immediately, the South Side and Eagle Hose companies, reaching the nearest hydrant at the same time. The water was not turned on, however, the little extinguisher being all that was needed to stop the flames. The fire originated from a pile of paper in the cellar, some coals having fallen on it through a defect in the hearth. A larger per cent of the firemen were out today than any fire in sometime.

THE MORAL OF IT.

The most disgusting scenes we have ever witnessed in Greensboro were those last Saturday night when men, numbers of them, were beastly drunk, and were carried from the streets unconscious. Coming along South Elm street about 7:30 o'clock we saw a man picked up from the gutter near the depot and dragged across the sidewalk to a place of hiding by his friends. A little later, going down Davie street south from the market we saw a man lying in the mud and water. In numbers of places men were seen "drunk and down." In at least two barrooms times got so warm that the proprietors put the crowds out and closed up shortly after dark.

What benefit, then, financially and morally, was the circus to Greensboro? The barrooms reaped a harvest in dollars and cents: but their gain caused many a poor fellow who wallowed in the cold mud and water Saturday night and who failed to pay his grocery bill, to spend a miserable Sunday. To the family of the man who took a day off to attend the circus and who late in the evening was dragged from a gutter, his body reeking with the fiery fluid and his clothing covered with the filthy mud of the streets, the bright sunshine of the Sabbath morning brought no joy or charms.

Calling on a number of grocerymen late Saturday night we asked them: "Well, how was business today?" We were invariably answered with a shake of the head and the declaration: "Business has been bad: I have not sold anything to speak of and what is worse, many of our weekly customers failed to show up tonight" One man told us that he knew of several men who were badly behind in their grocery accounts, who took their families and went to the circus through the cold, the rain and the ankle-deep mud. He didn't give us any names, of course; that is none of our business.

We do not condemn a circus as the worst thing we have to contend with; but we do lay down this proposition: The coming of the circus to Greensboro Saturday and the whiskey drank as a consequence thereof, caused many a pang of sorrow, and many a hard working man to begin today a week behind time with his groceryman, an empty pocket-book, an aching head, and by reason of debauchery indulged in, with morals besmirched as badly as the clothes of some we saw on the streets Saturday night.

Two years ago Mr. Wm. D. Merritt, the fusion candidate for solicitor, denounced McKinley and the gold standard, along with all principles of the republican party, and used his influence for and voted for Kitchin for congress against Hon. Thos. Settle. Mind you, that was just two short years ago, but now Mr. Merritt, in order to get office for himself, is asking Mr. Settle's party and friends to vote for him and at the same time professes to believe in the same principles he did two years ago. it was only last Monday that he was forced to admit that he would vote for Adams for congress. The time is coming when honest people will repudiate all dodgers and vote only for men who stand flatfooted and who are not afraid to meet their opponents at every appointment.

Here is the question: Has Atwater swallowed the democratic party or will the voters of the Congressional district swallow Atwater?—Chatham Citizen.

Here is another question: Suppose Atwater has swallowed the democratic party, composed of white men, and Jenkins has swallowed the republican party, composed of a few white men and a conglomerate mass of negroes, whose stomach will be in the best working order when vomiting time is over?

MR. BUXTON IN WASHINGTON.

He Says That Senator Pritchard Made a Grave Mistake.

"I was much surprised at the action of Senator Pritchard in relation to the race disturbances in our state," said Mr. J. C. Buxton, a prominent railroad man of Winston, N. C., last night at the Raleigh. "I have always given him credit for being a more astute politician. He ought to be well enough acquainted with the temper of our people to know that nothing was calculated to infuriate them more than the idea of sending Federal troops among them. I think this fatal mistake of the governor and Mr. Pritchard removes all uncertainty as to the result of the election. Many men who might have voted the Republican ticket will now cast their votes for the Democratic candidates.

"I think the crisis in the trouble is passed, and while the situation is still dangerous and will continue so, until after the election day, I do not look for more bloodshed The best assurance of peace, in my opinion, is the fact that both sides are prepared for trouble, and I have noticed in times past that when this is the case the the trouble is generally avoided.

"A great many people do not judge us aright because they are unfamilliar with the facts. We do not object to the negroes voting, nor their voting for whom they please. That is their right. We object, however, to the importation of negroes into the state wholly for the purpose of voting them at the elections. And we also think that in those counties where the negroes are predominant the white men who own 96 per cent. of the property are entitled to a voice regarding the levy of taxes on that property. I wish to say also that I think the Republican politicians are responsible for this present trouble. They have been stirring up the blacks for the purpose of making sure of all their votes, but the agitation went further than they expected, and the indications are that they have defeated themselves by their doubtful methods of attempting to win success."—Washington Post.

WOULD NOT ANSWER.

A Fair Sample of Fusion Campaigning.

Guilford's gallant democratic candidate for solicitor is adding new laurels every day to his already splendid reputation as a stump speaker and as an open, frank and honest man. From the Courier's account, as clipped below, of the joint debate between Mr. Brooks and his opponent at Roxboro you see what a pitiable plight the fusionist is left in. It is reported now that Merritt has deserted the campaign and is out bushwhacking. Read the extract from the Courier:

A noticeable feature about Mr. Merritt's speech was the absence of applause, He received none when he arose, none while talking, and none when he concluded. Indeed it was a cold home reception.

Mr. A. L. Brooks, the young champion of democracy and white supremacy, arose amid deafening applause and proceeded to business, and when he had finished there was no doubt in the minds of any one but what he had trimmed his opponent to the Queen's taste.

He asked Mr. Merritt if he endorsed the Russell administration? No answer. He said Mr. Merritt was afraid to answer, for Russell was his political creator and he was the creature of Russell.

He asked Mr. Merritt what he would do when he reached Granville county where there was two negro gold bug republicans running for the legislature against two white men, free silverites. Would he advise his people to vote for the negro. After a good deal of twisting he answered by saying he thought there were two populists on the ticket and would advise his people to support them. While in an answering mood he said he would not vote for Kitchin but would vote for Adams. Mark this. The man who two short years ago was "scouting" for free silver all over this district is today shouting for gold bug Adams. As Mr. Brooks reminded him "consistency thou art a jewel."

Mr. Brooks asked him if he was in favor of electing negro magistrates to try white men and white ladies? He offered to give him time to reply, but Mr. Merritt's mouth was sealed. White men and ladies what do you think of that. A white man afraid to answer that question. He can't say that this is a Democratic lie.

Mr. Brooks asked him if he endorsed Judge Norwood? No reply.

These and many other discomforting queries were put to him, which only intensified his discomfort.

During Mr. Brooks' speech he was loudly cheered, and once, when he soared high in an oratorical flight in speaking of the Anglo-Saxon race, the people stood on the seats, clapped their hands, waved their hats and gave him an ovation that would have done honor to even William Jennings Bryan. Throughout his effort was a delight to his friends and a red hot brand to the other fellows.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place: what reason (i. e. Theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. E. Holton.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has lame back or weak kidneys, malaria or nervous troubles, We mean he can cure himself right away by using Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system. acts as a stimulant to liver and kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic It cures constipation, headache, fainting spells, sleeplessness and melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Weekly Tobacco Review.

BY BRAY BROS.

The offerings on our market for the past week have been light owing to the fact that farmers have been busy seeding wheat; and furthermore the weather has been very unfavorable for handling the weed during the entire week.

The offerings have been common, but we have had a good little sale every day and as the weather now appears, we think sales will be heavy this week, and we look for some good tobacco.

Our buyers seem to have been in good spirits all the week and made things lively Prices on all grades have advanced steadily all the week, with a very active market on everything. Bidding at times became spirited and things went lively. We believe this will be a good time to market some of the weed.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine, and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on C. E. Holton, druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50 and $1. Every bottle guaranteed or price refunded.

ANOTHER SPLENDID BUILDING.

To Be Erected on S. Elm, By Rev. W. L. Grissom.

As mentioned in the Telegram a few days ago, Rev. W. L. Grissom has bought the lot on South Elm street between Mrs. Sol. Weill's new building and the store occupied by the Fishblate-Katz Co. Mr. Grissom informs the Telegram that he will, at no distant day, erect a handsome and substantial building on his new lot. He has not yet decided upon the plan but the upper stories of the building will be fitted for offices which will be reached by a stair case from the front, which will also give access to the upper floors of the Fishblate-Katz building and this too will be devided into nice office rooms.

Mr. Grissom was the first man to use pressed brick in the front of a store building in Greensboro, which were first used in the construction of the building now occupied by the Fishblate-Katz Co. It was a good example and has been largely followed by our builders.

DEAR LITTLE CHILDREN:

My loving old heart was touched this morning when I observed your red little fingers as you lugged your books and lunch baskets on your way to school. I was a child once, many, many years ago, and seeing your discomforts carried me hurriedly back over the long years of my life to the days when I was a little girl. But I did not suffer with cold fingers, for the reason that my old grand mother knitted and kept me supplied with a bright colored pair of warm, all wool mittens. You, dear child, possibly haven't any old grand mother; or if you have, she in all probability hasn't the time to knit them for you.

For these reasons I have bothered myself with your interests and have found at my old friend's, Matthews, Chisholm, Stroud & Rankin, a full supply of all wool, warm, and nicely knitted mittens, in any color that you may desire, and all they cost is 25 cents per pair.

Tell your mothers and have them secure you a pair before they are all gone.

From your loving
AUNT MARY.

A DANGEROUS WEAPON.

Wrested From a Prisoner Who Tried to Use It on an Officer.

Policeman Jordan who is holding sway at the depot now says he had the most trying experience with drunken men Saturday than on any day since he has been in the service. Drunken men were not locked up Saturday for the simple reason that there was no place to put them. If all the drunk men had been arrested the jail yard would have been required to accomodate them. Saturday night however Officer Jordan tried to drive a drunk man who was cursing every body who passed him, away from the depot.

The policeman went up to arrest him and the drunk man drew back to hit him but the officer warded off the blow with his left arm. The force of the blow convinced him that it was not a mere fist and immediately he grabbed his antagonist by the throat and rode him to the ground, splashing mud in all directions. A search proved that the man had a leaden ball weighing 23 ounces, up his coat sleeve and with this he had struck at the policeman's head. The ball was neatly covered with leather and was held in the coat sleeve by a strong leather thong.

The policeman locked his man up. Carrying such a dangerous weapon is likely to cost him several months of liberty. The man give his name as Callum, and said his home was near Jamestown.
